

Sakai CLE

The Naval Postgraduate School Collaborative Learning Environment (CLE) is an interactive portal designed to support the learning and research activities of the Naval Postgraduate School and its strategic partners. Its goal is to facilitate communication between people; instructors and students or researchers and their collaborators. There are many tools available for this communication including; file sharing, discussion forums, announcements, assignments, assessments, wikis, blogs, etc., all or just some of which can be used within each group's site.

Sakai can be accessed at <https://cle.nps.edu> with your NPS credentials.

Instructors having difficulties with a currently active Collaborate session between 0800 and 1700 Pacific Time working days please dial x2020 for assistance.
