

Collaborate Ultra

Introducing the Collaborate Ultra Experience!

Our Collaborate tool has been completely redesigned to be more streamlined, more reliable, and easier to access by our students who may be accessing their sessions from secure networks. Now Flash-based, instead of utilizing Java, Collaborate Ultra will run completely within your browser and doesn't need to download any software or files.

For a quick start guide for students, click here.

Google Chrome and Firefox are recommended for use with Collaborate Ultra, but it will work with any browser. For moderators, Chrome and Firefox are the only browsers that will support application sharing. All other browsers will allow all other functions for both moderator and participant.

If you would like to test your Flash version, please go to <https://helpx.adobe.com/flash-player.html> and click on the yellow Check Now button. If you find that you are missing Flash, either follow the instructions to download it, or speak with your IT department to have it installed, activated, or updated.
